

English for Action are recruiting trustees

English For Action provides free and accessible English language courses for adult migrants in London and supports them to effect positive change beyond the classroom. Our classes are spaces where students can not only learn English, but also connect with other people in their communities, share experiences, discuss important social issues, develop new skills and take action to effect change in their own lives, in their communities or even further afield. We are leading practitioners of 'participatory ESOL', an innovative and liberatory approach to adult education that builds students' critical capabilities, builds on existing strengths and engages with and seeks to change the world, inside and outside the classroom. We also use community organising methods in order to build learning communities with the power to effect change.

English for Action is run by a board of trustees who help the staff run the organisation. Trustees are volunteers who are legally and ethically responsible for the running of a charity and making sure that the organisation is doing the best for its beneficiaries.

We are looking to recruit more trustees, ideally people with the following experience: Past or present ESOL students, Migrating to the UK, Teaching ESOL, Campaigning and/or community organising, HR, Communications, Fundraising

If you have any of these skills or experiences and you would like to help a young charity to develop and continue to thrive then please read the Job Description and apply by 26th March. Write us an email or letter telling us about your skills and experience and why you are interested in the position. To discuss the position informally call Dermot on 07789006248.
